

STONES - MARBLE

When limestone re-crystallises under intense geological pressure and heat Marble rock is formed. Large, coarse grains of calcite are formed by fossilized materials, along with carbonates. Marble stone has long been valued for its beauty and strength; it was and still is widely used in commercial buildings, monuments, sculptures and residential houses.

Marble Uses - Bathroom Vanity Tops, Splash Backs, Tile Flooring, Wall Cladding (commercial & residential), Fireplaces, Marble Bars, Stairs and Kitchens Bench tops also but is not recommended due to its porous nature.

Amadora Marble

Rojo Alicante Marble

Botticino Marble

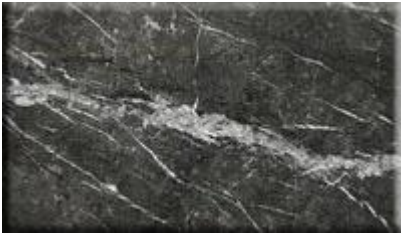

Calacutta Marble

Carrara Marble

Crema Marfil Marble

Grigio Carnico Marble

Pietra Griggio Marble

Nero Marquina Marble

Maroon Emperor Marble

Travertine Classico Marble

New York Marble

DORIC MARBLE

21-23 Tarnard Drive Braeside Vic 3195

P: +61 3 9587 8777

F: +61 3 9587 3477

info@doricmarble.com.au

STONES - GRANITE

Granite is a light-coloured plutonic rock commonly found in mountain belts. Granite forms as magma as it cools slowly deep far under the earth's surface. Granite's durability makes it an excellent material to be utilised internally and externally in commercial and domestic projects and as an ornamental stone.

Ideal for Kitchens Benchtops, Splashbacks, Bathrooms Vanity Tops, Wall Cladding, Flooring, Counter Tops and General Internal and External Use.

Jet Black

Galaxy Black

Imperial Black

Kashmir White

Kashmir Gold

Panna Fragola

Antique Brown

Baltic Brown

Emerald Pearl

Blue Pearl

Paradiso

Red Multi Colour

Labrador Antique

Volga Blue

Suede Brown

Steel Grey

Tan Brown

Uba Tuba

LIMESTONE/TRAVERTINE

Limestone is mainly made of calcite, a mineral form of calcium carbonate. Limestones are typically grey however other colours are found some also with strong markings such as strong veins or blotches. Because it can be easily worked, Limestone makes an excellent building material. Ideal for use in Bathrooms, Furniture, Flooring etc.

Mink Limestone

PDL/Crema Luna

Biancone Panna

Travertine Mirvona

Travertine Classico

DORIC MARBLE

21-23 Tarnard Drive Braeside Vic 3195

P: +61 3 9587 8777

F: +61 3 9587 3477

info@doricmarble.com.au